Special Stock Dividend

On September 13, 2012, the board of directors (collectively, the "Board") of HMS Income Fund, Inc. (the "Company") declared a special stock dividend of approximately 2.25 shares of the Company's common stock ($0.001 par value per share) per 100 shares of common stock. The stock dividend was issued on September 14, 2012 to stockholders of record on September 13, 2012. The purpose of this action was to ensure that the Company's net asset value ("NAV") per share does not exceed the Company's current offering price, after deduction of selling commissions and dealer manager fees, as required by the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended. The Board determined that the Company's portfolio performance warranted taking this action.

The special stock dividend increased the number of shares outstanding as of September 14, 2012, thereby reducing NAV per share. However, because the stock dividend was issued to all existing stockholders in proportion to their holdings, the reduction in NAV per share as a result of the stock dividend was offset exactly by the increase in the number of shares owned by each investor. As the overall value of an investor's position is not reduced as a result of the special stock dividend, the Board determined that its payment was not dilutive to existing stockholders. As the stock dividend did not change any stockholder's proportionate interest in the Company, it is not expected to represent a taxable dividend.

Statements in this Current Report on Form 8-K, including intentions, beliefs, expectations or projections relating to items such as the timing of payment of dividends are forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 27A of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, and Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. Such statements are based on current expectations and assumptions with respect to, among other things, future economic, competitive and market conditions and future business decisions that may prove incorrect or inaccurate. Important factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those in the forward looking statements include the risks described in the "Risk Factors" section of the Company's Registration Statement on Form N-2.

HMS Income Fund Declares 2.25% Special Stock Dividend

HOUSTON – September 13, 2012 – HMS Income Fund, Inc. (“HMS Income Fund”), a business development company sponsored by Hines and sub-advised by Main Street Capital Partners, LLC, a subsidiary of Main Street Capital Corporation (NYSE: MAIN), today declared a special stock dividend of approximately 2.25 shares of HMS Income Fund’s common stock per 100 shares of common stock. The board of directors approved the stock dividend in light of the performance of HMS Income Fund’s portfolio. “The purpose of this special stock dividend was to ensure that HMS Income Fund’s net asset value (“NAV”) per share does not exceed its current offering price, after deduction of selling commissions and dealer manager fees, as required by the Investment Company Act of 1940,” said Ryan Sims, chief financial officer for HMS Income Fund.

Sims also said that the special stock dividend increased the number of shares outstanding as of the issue date, thereby reducing NAV per share, “however, because the stock dividend was issued to all existing stockholders in proportion to their holdings, the reduction in NAV per share as a result of the stock dividend was offset exactly by the increase in the number of shares owned by each investor. As the overall value of an investor’s position is not reduced as a result of the special stock dividend, the board of directors determined that its payment was not dilutive to existing stockholders.” Sims added that the stock dividend it is not expected to represent a taxable dividend because it did not change any stockholder’s proportionate interest in HMS Income Fund.
